Office Hours: M – F, 8:30am to 5:00pm

The Alameda County Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program is provided by the federal Older Americans Act and the Older Californians Act through the Alameda County Area Agency on Aging. The Ombudsman Program is a community resource serving the residents in long-term care facilities, their families and caregivers. This list is made available to you as a courtesy of the Ombudsman community education program. For further information, or to discuss a problem or complaint please call 510.638.6878. Our services are free and confidentially.

This list contains information concerning the licensed skilled nursing and intermediate care facilities in Alameda County. Skilled Nursing Facilities (SNF) and Intermediate Care Facilities (ICF) are sometimes called nursing homes, rest homes, convalescent hospitals/homes or sanitariums.

Listing includes:

- Facility Name, address and phone number of facility.
- Number of licensed beds.
- Medicare & Medi-Cal certifications.
- Name of Licensee.

We make every effort to keep our information current. However, changes are made without our knowledge, so please be sure to call the facility for the most up-to-date information.

The following are some very simple guidelines, which may be followed as you go about choosing a facility. In addition, a checklist is included to assist you in your selection.

- Know the level of care you need. Skilled Nursing Facilities provide 24 hours of skilled care while Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (RCFEs) provide supervision and assistance with personal care, such as bathing and dressing. The SNF level of care is determined by the physician.
- Will the skilled nursing or the residential care facility be a permanent placement or used for a short-time stay only?
- Understand your financial situation and your ability (or the resident's ability) to pay for care. Will you be paying for care through private pay, Medicare, private insurance policy or Medi-Cal?
- List the medical needs of the resident.
- List the personal needs of the resident: large facility or small home-like facility, religious and social activities needed.
- List the positive attributes of the resident so that you may provide the administrator with a complete profile of the resident.
- Visit several facilities at different times of the day and let your instincts guide you. Could you live there? Use our checklist.

DEFINITIONS OF LEVEL OF CARE AND THEIR ABBREVIATIONS

SKILLED NURSING FACILITIES (SNF) are health facilities that provide skilled nursing and supportive care to persons that need this type of care on an extended basis.

SKILLED NURSING FACILITIES-DISTINCT PART (D/P SNF) are skilled nursing facilities, which are a distinct part of a hospital. In general, persons are admitted to these units from the acute care units of hospitals.

INTERMEDIATE CARE FACILITIES (ICF) are a lower level of SNF licensed by the California Department of Public Health to provide inpatient care to persons who do not require continuous nursing care, but do need nursing supervision and supportive care. Most ICFs are certified by Medi-Cal and qualify for its payments, although at a lower rate than skilled nursing facilities.

Note that a facility needs to be certified for either/both Medicare/Medi-Cal if the prospective resident plans to use these programs to pay for care immediately or in the future.

ADMISSION AGREEMENTS

Both Skilled Nursing and Intermediate Care Facilities are required to make a copy of their admission agreement readily available to any potential resident and/or their family member.

Upon admission, each facility should make a reasonable effort to communicate the entire content of the contract (the admission agreement) to the resident and/or their family member and obtain the signature of the person being admitted. In case the resident is unable to sign the contract, the reason should be documented in the medical record by the admitting physician.

The practice of requiring a responsible party is no longer allowed under federal law, whether you are a private-pay resident or already on Medi-Cal when you enter. It is illegal for any facility that participates in Medi-Cal or Medicare to require a resident to have a personally liable responsible party. Federal law (OBRA) prohibits Skilled Nursing Facilities from requiring a third party to guarantee payment as a condition of admission or continued stay.

An agent is the person who manages, uses or controls the resident's funds or assets. The facility may require a resident's authorized representative or agent to agree to apply the resident's money to the Skilled Nursing Facility charges.

The facility may ask for a security deposit only from private pay residents. The security deposit shall be returned to the resident if and when he/she converts to Medi-Cal.

NO FACILITY MAY REQUIRE A PROSPECTIVE RESIDENT OR HIS/HER FAMILY TO PAY PRIVATELY FOR ANY SPECIFIC PERIOD OF TIME BEFORE CONVERTING TO MEDI-CAL.

The contract must inform residents at admission and throughout their stay of the services and supplies included in the basic rate. The contract must also inform residents of optional services and the charges for those services.

A facility cannot claim that they are not responsible when the resident has suffered a loss or an injury due to the facility's negligence (failure to use adequate care). NOTE: Facilities are not responsible for clothing and valuable items that are not listed on the inventory list. The inventory list must be constantly updated as items are brought into or removed from the facility.

Each resident has rights stated under the Federal and California Nursing Home Regulations. A list of these rights must accompany the admission agreement. Familiarize yourself with Resident Rights. They are the lifeline of the resident

READ AND RE-READ THE ADMISSION AGREEMENT TO AVOID FUTURE PROBLEMS. BE SURE ALL YOUR QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED.

ROLE OF THE OMBUDSMAN IN LONG TERM CARE FACILITIES

The Ombudsman's chief role is to ensure that residents of long term care facilities are receiving the services to which they are entitled, including quality care. All services are free and confidential.

DIRECT SERVICES FOR RESIDENTS

- Receive and resolve complaints, misunderstandings and grievances.
- Monitor conditions of care.
- Solve problems with meals, finances, abuse, medications, lack of activities, community resources, placements, theft of personal belongings, lack of quality care, residents' rights, consideration and treatment with dignity.
- Witness Advance Health Care Directives.

DIRECT SERVICES FOR FAMILIES AND FRIENDS

- Receive and resolve complaints.
- Monitor conditions to insure quality care.

CHECKLIST FOR EVALUATING SKILLED NURSING FACILITIES

PHYSICAL PLANT AND GENERAL ATMOSPHERE

- Is the facility clean and relatively free of odors?
- Is there an effort to make the facility and residents' rooms comfortable and homelike?
- Is there a noticeable attitude of caring expressed toward the residents by the staff?

QUALITY OF CARE

- Does the physical condition of the residents reflect good hygiene and adequate basic care? (Note hair, teeth, fingernails, face, and skin.)
- Are call bells responded to promptly?
- Are the residents made comfortable in wheelchairs: (Note whether patients' back and/or buttocks are exposed and are in contact with the plastic on the back of the wheelchair; note whether cushioning is needed?)
- Do the residents who do not receive physical therapy have the opportunity for daily exercise and for walking WITH assistance?

PATIENTS' RIGHTS

- Is privacy assured when patients receive care?
- Are patients treated with dignity and respect?
- Are call bells placed within patients' reach?

DIETARY

- Are the meals appetizing?
- Is the quantity sufficient?
- Are fresh fruits and vegetables used in season?
- Are the patients brought together to dine (as opposed to eating alone in rooms or in halls)?

ACTIVITY PROGRAM

- Are there a variety of activities and do they seem to meet patients' needs?
- Is there an effort to include as many patients as possible in activities, which are meaningful to them?

OTHER

- Is the mandatory Ombudsman poster displayed where residents and visitors can easily read it?
- Is linen (sheets, blankets, patient gowns, etc.) in good condition?
- Is the Personal Needs Allowance made available to patients?
- Are administrative personnel available to discuss and resolve concern/problems/ complaints?

THEFT AND LOSS

The loss of personal property is a prevalent problem for the residents and relatives of persons in long term care facilities. Taking precautions to prevent loss or theft of personal property is a shared obligation of the resident, the resident's family, the administration of the facility, the facility staff and the Ombudsman program. Following are some suggestions for the security and the retention of personal property while in long term care.

- In selecting a facility, you may review the facility's records for a history of theft and loss. Each facility is required to have a theft and loss policy readily available.
- It is best to mark or tag your items before admission. Marking clothing with sewn in tags is preferred or use indelible ink to withstand frequent washings. Be careful when marking clothing to be sure that the resident's name does not show through when the item is being worn. This will help protect the dignity of the individual.
- Retaining and the having the use of personal possessions is most helpful in making the transition to long term care placement. However, it is best to limit the number of personal belongings that are kept at the facility.
- At the time of admission to a facility, an inventory will be prepared and copy given to the resident or responsible party. This inventory should be updated at least twice a year. Any time new items are brought into or taken out of the facility, they should be added to or deleted from the inventory list. Personal items that are frequently taken in and out of the facility (for example, laundry and clothing) do not need to be removed from the inventory list each time. The facility can assist you with hard to mark items such as eyeglasses, dentures and prosthetic devices. For items with great value, a detailed description should be included and it is advised that these items be formally appraised. NOTE: The facility is only responsible for those items on the inventory list and when reasonable efforts have not been made to safeguard resident property.
- The facility must maintain a protected area for safekeeping of residents' personal belongings. The facility must provide a lock for a resident's bedside drawer or cabinet, if requested. This is at the expense of the resident.
- Report any missing items to the facility staff immediately. If you are not satisfied with the response or results of the facility's investigation, please contact the Ombudsman office to assist you.

Facility staff, residents and their families should all take responsibility for protection of personal property of long term care residents. Be observant and report any unusual activity to the facility administrator. Feel free to call the Ombudsman office if you have any questions or problems regarding theft and loss.
