ACSSA staff who normally work at the Eastmont Self-Sufficiency Center will be temporarily relocated to other office locations.

"We continue to work on solutions to eradicate the ongoing rodent issue at the Eastmont Self-Sufficiency Center, but the problem persists despite our best efforts to date," said Lori A. Cox, ACSSA Director. "We regret the inconvenience to the community and staff, and we will reopen as soon as it is safe to do so."

Signage will be prominently displayed at all entrances directing the public to other ACSSA locations, and information will be posted on ACSSA's social media and internet sites.
